COMMITTEE HEARS ATTACK ON GIRAUD.
ELECTS JUDGE PROSKAUER PRESIDENT

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEW YORK — Pledging "every effort and every sacrifice to the winning of the war," the 36th annual meeting of the American Jewish Committee this week adopted a statement urging the United Nations and "those who shall frame the terms of peace" to bring relief to Jewish victims of Axis barbarism by effecting "their repatriation, rehabilitation and the complete restoration and safeguarding of their equal civil and religious rights."

The statement also affirmed the Committee's desire "to cooperate with those Jews who wish to settle in Palestine" and approved for Palestine an international trusteeship responsible to the United Nations for the purposes of safeguarding Jewish settlement in and Jewish immigration into Palestine, protecting the fundamental rights of all inhabitants as well as the holy places of all faiths, and preparing Palestine "to become, within a reasonable period of years, a selfgoverning Commonwealth." At the same time it emphasized that "settlement in Palestine, although an important factor, cannot alone furnish and should not be expected to furnish the solution of the problem of post-war Jewish rehabilitation."

The statement was adopted following the presentation to the meeting of a report on overseas activities of the American Jewish Committee by George Z. Medalie. Describing the situation of Jews in various countries, Mr. Medalie said that "the North African situation today is frankly distressing, notwithstanding the sincerity of our government in its declared purposes with respect to Jews who reside there." He termed "amazing" the statement made last week by Gen. Giraud that the Jewish question was an internal one in which the world as a whole has no interest, and declared that it is the duty of American Jews, together with other Americans, "to insist that what we fight for throughout the world shall not be mocked in one part of it under our control."

Join National Bond Drive

Team captains were announced this week as the Indianapolis Zionist District joined in the campaign of the Zionist Organization of America to sell War bonds throughout the month of February, which has been designated by the Treasury Department as Zionist War Bond month.

Dave Sablosky, president of the local district, expressed confidence that Indianapolis will make a fine showing in the campaign. "This is not a one-shot war," said Mr. Sablosky. "Once isn't enough in the purchase of War Bonds. Our men fought in the Coral Sea last May—but they didn't quit after the battle, they kept on fighting, and we must keep on buying War Savings Bonds," he urged.

"Do we think more of our money than we do of our men? Of course, we don't—so let's start this Zionist War Bond Month off in a big way," concluded Mr. Sablosky.

Bond buyers have been asked to communicate with any of the captains listed below and telephone in pledges so that workers will not have to make calls and can utilize their time selling others.

Captains are Mrs. Henry Blatt and Mrs. Shoolet Ettinger in the women's division, and in the men's division, Julian Freeman, Ed Dayan, Abe Unger, Leo Talesnick, Aaron Glick, Alex Katz, Carl Lyman, Nate Regenstrief, Irving Ruben, William Safran, Max Selig, Simon Brill, Joe Epstein, Julius Falender, Abe Jaffe, Percy Simmons, Harry Adler, Abe Barskin, Joseph Bassler.

Lafayette Meeting
Hears Plans
For Fund Drive

LAFAYETTE — That the new Hillel House at Bloomington had already been purchased, and that many contributions had already begun to pour in despite no official campaign, and that occupancy of the new edifice may take place as early as this May, were told to members of the Hillel Commission of the Indiana-Kentucky State Association of B'nai B'rith at a meeting here Sunday.

A thousand dollar contribution from a Terre Haute Jewish leader was said to be almost certain, the committee heard.

Plans for a dinner in Indianapolis in the near future as part of the fund raising campaign were also discussed.

The figures on the spacious new home, considered as fine as any sorority or fraternity house on the campus, were given as follows: Purchase cost, $13,000; $2,000 raised at the annual Hillel Pilgrimage last November; the mortgage, $6,500. The Indiana-Kentucky State Association of Women's Auxiliaries, who will supervise the outfitting of the new home, estimate that another $3,000 will be required to completely furnish the building.

A three-story structure, the house is located just a few doors from the present Hillel House. The third floor contains a large room ideal for a chapel, while a library room and social rooms are on the second floor. The idea for the purchase of the home, which was bought at a bargain, came from Louis Becovitz of Bloomington, an ardent Hillel worker.

Encouraged by the many large donations already received, leaders of the movement envisaged no difficulty in raising the needed funds, and expected to raise even the money to remove the mortgage. At present the affairs of the new home are being handled by a new corporation formed by Saul Munter, who is president of the Advisory Committee.

Attending the sessions were: Isadore Feibleman, Jack Kammins, Mrs. Harold I. Platt, Mrs. Max Farb, Sol Munter, Leon Levin, Indianapolis; Rabbi Herman Pollack, Louis Becovitz, Bloomington; Mr. and Mrs. Irving Garnitz, South Bend; Leonard Freeman, Miss Helen Arkin, Joe Lynn, Hammond; Hyman Cohen, East Chicago; Jack N. Gole, Arnold Mayer, Michigan City; Joseph Stiefler, Gil Roskin, Reuben Berman, Marion; Thelma Zavat-sky, Elkhart, Mr. and Mrs. William Stern, Dr. J. Katz, Gary; Meyer Ruchman, Mrs. Clara Fields, Ft. Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fried, Rabbi Meyer H. Simon, Himan Pearlman, Harry Pearlman, and Sergeant Ben Paris, Lafayette.

forces anywhere, except overseas, when according to army regulations papers may be sent only to paid subscribers. Parents need not be subscribers to the paper.

To the Editor,

I finally got settled up here at Atlantic City and thought perhaps you would be interested to hear from me. I was inducted at Ft. This is a Basic Training Center for all branches of the Army Air Corps.

I applied for radio operations and after I go through the rigid physical program here, I will be sent to a school to learn radio.

The army is all right, but you really miss your friends although you gain many in the army. I would appreciate your sending me the paper and giving all my friends my regards.

Receiving The Jewish Post would keep me in touch with the city and all my friends. Thanking you in advance.

Admits Delay, Says Is Internal Affair

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

LONDON—Gen. Henri Giraud, addressing a press conference in North Africa, briefly but clearly stated his views on the question of rescinding the anti-Jewish laws which were introduced in Morocco and Algeria by the Vichy regime prior to the landing of American forces.

Gen. Giraud, who is the High Commissioner for French North and West Africa, emphasized that he considers the Jewish question a purely internal affair of the French administration. He said that he does not sympathize with the Nazi anti-Semitic theories which the Vichy regime carried out, but would not permit the "world as a whole" to press him into any action on the Jews which would interfere with the internal affairs of his regime.

Gen. Giraud then made it clear that Jews in North Africa will get back the property which was confiscated from them under Vichy's "Aryanization" laws, and that Jewish children will be readmitted to the schools. "But," he added, "these moves must be made gradually."

Urges Laymen Not to Let Rabbis Do Their Thinking

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

CINCINNATI—Urging Jewish laymen not to allow rabbis to do their thinking for them, Rabbi Morris S. Lazaron of Baltimore, one of the leaders of the recently-formed American Council for Judaism which opposes political Zionism, outlined his objections to Zionist political activities, addressing the 119th annual congregation dinner of the Rockdale Temple here.

"Don't let the rabbis do your thinking for you," he said. "You of the laity must be informed on this vital issue. The time has come to choose sides in a serious matter. I do not stand with political Zionism." He added that the philosophy of political Zionism "is the philosophy of despair, assumes that our present status is hopeless and that democracy is a failure."

"I object to political Zionism," he said, "because it goes beyond the Balfour Declaration in demanding (a) a Jewish army; (b) unlimited Jewish immigration into Palestine with a Jewish commonwealth and Jewish control there. I object to political Zionism because it violates the Atlantic Charter. I object to political Zionism for the reason that—in one of the United Nations' most delicate moments, when the fate of millions of persons other than Jews is at stake—political Zionism loudly demands Palestine for the Jews, without consideration of possible disturbance of the United Nations' situation in relation to 17,000,000 Arabs."

YES, NEIGHBOR, YOU . . . quiet, self-effacing you, are a living part and parcel of the biggest, toughest, bloodiest war in all the hard pages of history.

You can't escape it. You can't hide out on the moon!

For here is a war EVERYBODY is in. The man behind the plow. The kid in knee pants. The oldster with the cane. The housewife with the market basket. The white-collar worker. The blue-collar worker. The girl in the schoolroom.

We're ALL in it—lock, stock, body, and soul.

If America loses, you lose. If America goes down (and it can), you go down, too. And every decent thing goes down with you . . . that home, that hearth, that patch of ground, that blessed freedom.

The only way to save these things is to win the war!

And the only way to win is to out-build, out-gun, out-plane, and out-fight the enemy—to make him sick at the sound of a propeller, the sight of a tank, the roar of a bomb.

That's where you come in.

For, brother and sister, building these things takes money. Lots of it! And your Government needs that money right now! Not for keeps. They don't want you to give it away. They just want you to lend it to them.

Who, me?

Yes, you!

Editor's Chair,

A short item in The Indianapolis Star Tuesday morning tells of the sale of The Evening World of Spencer, stressing that the new owner resold the paper without publishing even one edition. The article, however, fails to mention the old owner, which is my story. He was Ben Kaufman, in the Navy Intelligence since last August. Ben bought the paper when he graduated from I. U., where he was editor of the student daily and a big man on the campus, and built it up into a fine publication. He was a hard worker, and used to get up at five in the morning to begin his daily duties, and had an excellent future before him. Helen, his wife, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hassan of Fort Wayne, tried to keep the paper running while Ben was serving his country, but the job proved too arduous. Ben wrote that fine eulogy of Melvin Unger, which we printed on page one, just the week before he was ordered to service.

Sometime ago I reprinted a few paragraphs from a moving letter from Mrs. Sanford Lakin in which she told of her grief at the loss of her husband, Lt. Lakin who went down with his ship off the coast of Africa in November. Lt. Lakin last week was chosen as the "Man of the Year" by members of the Columbus, O., Junior Chamber of Commerce. He received the distinguished service key as the man under 36 who had contributed most to the community during the past year. Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert presented the award to Mrs. Lakin who has been doing war work since her husband's death. Lt. Sanford was a past president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and also of the Columbus B'nai B'rith.

The chaplain's school now at Harvard University will soon be moved to Fort Knox, I hear.

Over at Terre Haute last night, fifteen new members were in-

The Situation on Treatment in North Africa

DESPITE THE willingness of most liberals to make concessions in the case of the treatment of Jews and other progressive groups in North Africa under the present regime, it must be admitted at this time that they are in the hands of reactionary elements whose sentiments lie closer to devotion to fascism than to any other political philosophy.

That the American Jewish Committee, the conservatives of American Jewish life, would take cognizance and in strong language call attention to Gen. Giraud's statement that what happens to the liberals in his domain is nobody's business, should be convincing enough.

Giraud took over after Darlan. That was after the storm of disapproval over the so-called deal with the former Vichy satellite. Yet Giraud implemented policies and raised up leaders whom Darlan probably would not have dared to acknowledge.

One factor remains yet which can change the entire picture. Most of the news from North Africa anent treatment of Jews is dated pre-Roosevelt-Churchill conference in Casablanca. It is now known that this particular problem, not so much of the treatment of Jews, but rather of the carry-over into Giraud's regime of Vichy policies and Vichy leaders, occupied a major place on the agenda of that conference. Most liberals would be inclined to trust President Roosevelt, and as far as this paper is concerned, better news, much better news, can be expected from North Africa soon.

Praise for B'nai B'rith

THIS PAPER would be less than fair were it to ignore the splendid achievement of the B'nai B'rith in convoking the gathering of national Jewish organizations at Pittsburgh two weeks ago. With utter disregard for any gain to itself and acting only in the interest of U. S. Jewry, as a whole, the B'nai B'rith initiated this move which may well be a historical landmark in the development of the Jewish community of the United States.

Henry Monsky and lodge officials so conducted the conference that no group, even those who were indifferent to the call, could possibly have any grounds for complaint. The projected Assembly seems to have been predicated on the framework of absolute democracy in so far as that is possible in the conflicting groupings of American Jewry.

B'nai B'rith has effected many goods for the people it serves, but it may well be that none be classed higher than the current move.

Current Comment

Can't Make God Scapegoat, Rabbi Herz Says in Sermon. "Is God in War" — It is a healthy sign for civilization when men of all denominations give evidence of increasing concern over the problem of God's action in the war. The problem is a very real one for the average man. Where now is God? he asks. Is this war a judgment of God? Is God using this war? If God is just, how can we explain injustice? If God is love, how can we explain hate and suffering as a manifestation of a God of love and goodness? Is God in the war?

The very fact that these questions disturb us indicates an awareness that something is wrong. Perhaps men today are making a more conscientious effort to reach a meaningful answer. Most men accept belief in some kind of God, even if they don't always know what kind. But this belief is an inherited faith, accepted largely as social habit—just as "going to church" was a social habit established by past generations of greater piety than ours. Then a degraded kind of "humanism" gripped men's minds, glorifying the powers of man to the exclusion of God. We grew self-important and complacent, and pointed to the marvels of the twentieth century as the flowering age of man's creative genius.

Because physical and material progress were not matched with spiritual and moral progress, because the world became one physically but not one spiritually, because global distances shrank but men's horizons did not expand, the world was shaken a few years ago, and our complacency was disturbed. God unexpectedly returned to human consciousness, but only to be blamed for human misery and social chaos. Men questioned: Why have all these horrible things happened in our comfortable world? Why should millions be hunted, hounded, and harried, driven from one frontier boundary to another as "a fugitive and a wanderer" until the very thought of death seems sweet? How can we believe in God today?

Yet we need not be so arrogant as to believe that ordinary human beings, made of the dust of the earth, can comprehend the cosmic darkness or penetrate the mysteries of divinity. Our powers of comprehension are weak and limited—or have men so quickly forgotten humility in their woeful conceit? It is unfair and unjust to blame God for all the wars and brutality and frustrations to be found on this planet. God cannot be made the cosmic scapegoat for man's failures.

Herbert Agar, in his remarkable challenge to Americans, "A Time for Greatness", says this:

"We have long enjoyed the benefactions of Providence; the consequent responsibility has caught up with us at last." If war had not broken out as a result of the international greed of nations; if the sordid past had not caught up with us; if the gangsters of Rome and brigands of Berlin had gone scot-free, then we could well say: What's happening to God? What kind of morality is that? But the Ten Commandments are being illustrated by what is happening today. "As ye sow, that also shall ye reap" is still true, and the universe is still law-abiding. Reduced to an elementary statement, the war has become a means—a tragic means, to be sure—of teaching mankind a fundamental lesson: we cannot break God's moral law without the moral law breaking us!

This is not God's war. God cannot be hustled into a uniform to fight for either side. The ones who will be victorious will be those who do not try to place God on their side but who place themselves on the side of God!

Even though this is not God's war, perhaps God may be at work in this war, showing men once again that His ways cannot be ignored if men are to have peace and cherish liberty and live together as brothers.

Our world will yet rediscover God—the God whom we remembered only to point the finger of scorn and cry out against His ways. And as He redirects men's steps on the paths of progress, we will yet see His footprints in the shifting sands of the world of tomorrow.

"Tribune of His People" Gets Tribute in Detroit Jewish News—Zvi Hirsch Masliansky whose death occurred last week, was known as "Matif Leumi," the "Tribune of His People." He was one of the greatest orators of all times and he had left his mark on two generations.

Some very interesting facts are revealed in the obituary notices of this great man, who had rendered such valuable services to the causes of Palestine philanthropy, education and religion. Forty years ago, he was associated with the late Louis Marshall in publishing a Yiddish newspaper. A decade before that time, he was the teacher of Dr. Chaim Weizmann at the Yeshivah in Pinsk. He guided the late Jacob Schiff in the Americanization of Russian Jewish immigrants.

It is a long way from Pinsk to New York, but Masliansky managed to link the two, so that he was at home in both places, with the Jews of Russia as well as the most eminent men in America. That is why he had earned the title "Tribune of His People."

LOCAL WOMAN HAS 3 SONS IN SERVICE

Three stars decorate the service flag of Mrs. Lena Brown, 2147 Madison Ave., who has given all of her sons to the service of their country. They have all gained promotion since being in the service, too. Staff Sgt. Harold Brown (who has attained that rank after only three months training) is home on a furlough from Aberdeen, Md. Cpl. Edward Brown has been in the service since December and is stationed at Camp Perry, O., and the third son, Lt. Julius Brown, who was decorated for bravery under fire at Pearl Harbor, has been transferred to Officer Training, Signal Corps, Asbury Park, N. J. Lt. Brown was married last week to the former Helen Kline of this city.

Soldiers Enjoy Unusual Sunday Supper

Mrs. Louis Trinz was chairman of the group who cooked and served the Sunday evening supper to a happy crowd of soldiers and sailors this last week. Assisting her were the Mesdames David Lipp, Sidney Weinstein, Arthur Efroymsen, Melvin Atlash, Herman Strashun, Louis Strashun, Max Selig, Art Rose, Ferdinand Born, Joseph Baerncof, Sidney Cohn, Sidney James, Jack Berman, Raymond Kiser, Lou Leventhal, Sam Gruenfest, J. J. Kiser, Bernard Landman, and Jacob Weiss. Those who have already served on one or more of the Sunday evening supper committees, which have been responsible for the weekly meals prepared for the large crowd of servicemen who attend these events, know how much the boys enjoy these treats and will appreciate the request for women in the community to continue taking turns in serving with a group in charge of these Sunday night affairs. Any person, organization, or group interested may call Mrs. Louis Rappaport, Chairman of the Sunday supper committee, Broadway 4088.

SAYS RECORD WILL HELP

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

MONTREAL—The fine record of Jewish refugees now in Canada in contributing to war industry will help to open the gates of the Dominion to refugees after the war, Saul Hayes, director of the Canadian Jewish Congress, declared at the post-war planning discussion of the annual conference of the Canadian Jewish Congress here.

Initiated into Gan Eden lodge, and among the new members appeared the name of Rabbi Herman Pollack. Don't tell me that the I. U. Hillel Director is only now becoming affiliated with the organization that employs him. Incidentally Rabbi Pollack is doing a splendid job at the Bloomington campus. The students like him very much, and that is about the best compliment you can pay any Hillel Director.

TOWN CRIER

By G. M. C.

Our honest friend Alfred Dobrowitz is now in New York, a student at the Yeshiva College there. Alfred enlisted and has passed all his examinations in the air corps where he will be an aviation cadet, and since there are several months elapsing until he is due to report, he persuaded his parents to let him continue his Hebrew studies at the famous New York institution, although Mr. and Mrs. Dave Dobrowitz, would no doubt like to have had him stay at home with them for the short time. But Alfred wanted it that way. He taught Hebrew at the Jewish Education Association, and was an important Young Judea leader in the Middle West.

We are sending quite a few papers to soldiers now, mounting in the hundreds by this time. Some of the state B'nai B'rith lodges have sent in the complete rolls of their members in the service, and many friends and relatives send in names to us too. Every once in a while we'll get a note from a soldier asking us in a nice way to please not send the paper any more. And don't get the wrong idea. It's not that The Post is not interesting.

One mother called and said her son had wanted the paper stopped. It just so happened that I had answered the phone several weeks before when she asked to have the paper sent, so I was curious. And she told me this story. Her son had been away one afternoon when the mail was being passed out, and one of the soldiers in his tent had picked up his mail for him. Evidently the soldier had seen the name of the paper and asked the fellow if he were Jewish. That wouldn't be embarrassing to most Jewish boys, but it was to this one. His mother did say that her son didn't look Jewish at all, which should give you an inkling of what the real situation was.

Anyway I got started on this by a letter from Terre Haute. I won't mention the fellow's name, because if he doesn't want his identity known, that is his business. But the insistence of this particular letter rubs me the wrote the letter knows me well enough to call me Gabe, yet he starts off, Dear Mr. Cohen.

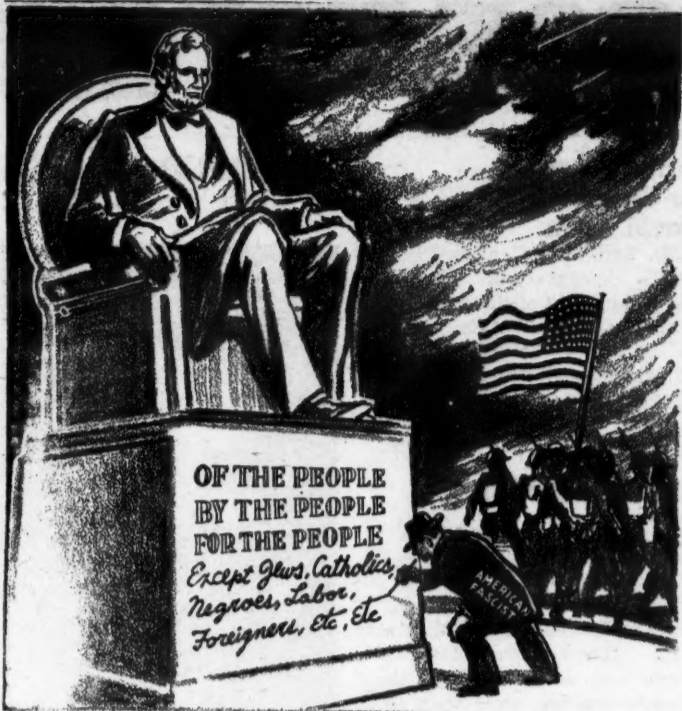

"We have just been advised by Mr. ———, who is located at Camp ———, that you have been sending The Post to him.

"He would appreciate very much if you were to discontinue sending The Post to him and please do this at once."

"We trust you will take care of this matter immediately and see that he receives no more issues of The Post."

Compare this letter and the other few isolated cases with the many heart-warming letters we print in our "In The Service Now" column on page two.

RABBI CLAIMS CHARGE REFUTED BY RECORD

To the editor:

It has come to our attention that a number of stories are circulating about the community concerning the services which the rabbis of Indianapolis are providing for the men in the armed services in this vicinity.

It should be known generally that all of the rabbis of the city have cooperated through the Religious Affairs Committee of the Army and Navy Committee of the Jewish Community Center Association. Religious services on the Sabbath at Fort Harrison have been provided, regular weekly visits to the hospitals have been made, and counseling services to the soldiers has been available and have been asked by many boys in the services.

It should be generally understood that every appeal made to the rabbis of Indianapolis for every type of service has been provided by rabbis, who are only too happy to do their part in the community effort for victory.

RABBIS OF INDIANAPOLIS. Rabbi M. Gldblatt, Chairman, Religious Affairs Committee.

STATE LODGES ASKED TO JOIN INTO BOY SCOUT WORK

To the editor:

District Grand Lodge 2, B'nai B'rith, has organized a "Boy Scouts of America Committee" with Samuel S. Ginsberg, Denver, Colo., as chairman, for the purpose of giving full support to this splendid organization.

Each lodge has been asked to appoint a Boy Scout Committee composed of three or more members, if possible, men who have had previous Boy Scout experience. This committee should notify the Scout Executive of the local Boy Scout Council that the lodge committee exists and is ready and willing to cooperate in Boy Scout work in the District or council. If no troop or pack is now being sponsored it is recommended that the lodge sponsor a mixed troop or pack of both Jewish and non-Jewish boys, even though the number of Jewish boys may be only a small percentage of the whole. If the lodge cannot sponsor a troop or pack then the committee should take an active part in the District or council committee in their area.

The following are the chairmen of the lodge Boy Scout Committee of the Indiana-Kentucky State Association of B'nai B'rith: Dr. Harry Bailee, South Bend; Herbert Pazol, Muncie; Rabbi A. J. Feinberg, Hammond; Bernard Mintz, East Chicago; J. J. Rosenthal, Fort Wayne; Arnold Wiener, Gary; Eph Levin, Indianapolis; Albert Davidson, Elkhart; Sidney Kramer, Evansville; Louis Pearlman, Lafayette; Stanford Glasser, Michigan City; Carlyle Levinson, Terre Haute; Harry Dansker, Vincennes; Harry Goldberg, Anderson; Jack Copenhagen, Kokomo; Gil Roskin, Marion; Bernard Goldstein, Louisville.

The state chairmen are Jack Gole, Michigan City and J. J. Rosenthal, Fort Wayne.

We would appreciate you publishing the list of this committee and especially, please call attention to the fact that each lodge should have a Washington or Lincoln celebration, suggesting that they have scouts, including a color guard; pledge of allegiance; Scout Oath and Laws; a short talk on the purpose and accomplishments of scouting and perhaps some actual demonstration of scouting.

This is the 33rd anniversary of scouting. Anything you could do would be appreciated by this committee.
